

How do they compare?

The Bayroom

Cuisine: American
Reservations: Not accepted
Prices: Moderate to expensive
Service: Friendly, but slow
Size: Large, but often crowded on weekends
Recommended: Delicious soups and desserts
Don't bother: Steak

Antonio's

Cuisine: Italian / Seafood
Reservations: Recommended
Prices: Inexpensive to moderate
Service: Friendly and efficient
Size: Small, crowded on weekends
Recommended: Seafood cannelloni
Don't bother: Desserts

Follow-up Questions

1. Which restaurant is more expensive / larger?
2. For which restaurant do you need a reservation?
3. What shouldn't you order at the Bayroom / Antonio's?
4. What kind of food does each restaurant serve?
5. Which restaurant do you think is better? Why?